

Voight Family Farm Pasture Walk

Tuesday, July 30, 2024, 6:00 – 8:00 PM
Fredericksburg, PA (Lebanon County)

There are many ways to implement grazing practices in new or existing livestock operations with small acreage and limited equipment or infrastructure. Benefits to soil, animals and farm management are noticed when adding managed grazing to your farm system. Infrastructure requirements, grazing and pasture management, and a new grazing support program to loan temporary fencing are the focus of a pasture walk hosted by Capital RC&D and Del Voight, Voight Family Farms.

- Pasture walk highlighting Angus seedstock on approximately 13 acres of pasture and hay land using a four strand perimeter fence, temporary interior fencing, and movable watering system.
- Launch of new grazing support program to loan temporary fencing
- Hands-on temporary fencing demonstration
- Capital RC&D grazing advisors, USDA-NRCS staff, and others on-site to talk about technical support options

There is no cost but registration is requested by Mon. July 29, 2024
